In 2009, Joe was diagnosed with MSA. For three years, Joe fought valiantly to defeat the disease and to slow its progress. His wish for the charity was to support patients, develop new treatments, raise awareness and advance research necessary for defeating Multiple System Atrophy.

What is MSA?

Multiple System Atrophy is a rare rapidly progressing neurodegenerative disorder. MSA impairs the systems that regulate blood pressure, heart rate and bladder - many of the basic bodily functions that people take for granted every day.

People with MSA suffer from dangerously low blood pressure, speech and swallowing difficulties, sleep disturbances, breathing problems, rigidity and tremors. The life expectancy for those with MSA is typically 5-10 years. Patients with advanced MSA often become bedridden, unable to speak and completely immobile.

At present, there is no cure for MSA, no genetic tests to detect it and very few treatments to manage its debilitating effects.

Our Mission

Realizing that much of the current attention is focused on more widely known diseases, Multiple System Atrophy is overlooked. MSA patients are confronted with a dim prognosis and left with few options.

Defeat MSA aims to increase AWARENESS, help ALLEVIATE suffering from MSA and ADVANCE research towards a cure!
